

Crantock Drive.

Crantock Drive is a homely bungalow situated in a quiet area of Almondsbury.

The home currently caters for eight residents, ranging from people in their 50s to their 90s.

The home consists of:

- Eight bedrooms, each decorated the individual tastes
- A large kitchen
- Conservatory, which tends to be used as for dining
- A large lounge
- A large bathroom and a wet room, adapted to meet the needs of residents
- Two extra toilets
- A large, fully accessible garden surrounding the property.

Activities

Activities vary depending on choice, from knitting, to cycling. The home always has plenty of crafts and games in use. Residents regularly visit the theatre and stately homes and gardens. A firm favourite is the afternoon tea!

The Home owns one minibus to assist residents to access the community and is hoping to soon have a second vehicle.

Staff also regularly support the residents to visit places of interest in the community. Trips out in the past have included:

- Bristol hippodrome
- Bowling
- Shopping
- Bristol zoo
- Singalong sessions

“

Crantock Drive is a homely, happy place that's often filled with laughter and song.

Heather Griffin, Home Manager

The people who live at Crantock Drive also choose whether they want to go on holiday each year. Past destinations are included Sidmouth, Weymouth and Torquay.

One lady recently chose to do an outward bound week in Exmoor.

Dedicated staff

The home has a stable staff team who have experience in training and supporting residents with needs including learning disabilities, epilepsy, dementia, physical disabilities and mental health needs.

Volunteers

We are also privileged to have young volunteers come into the house and do crafts and games.

“Everybody is so friendly here.” LC, resident.

“I enjoy going out and singing songs.” MS, resident.
